

OPPOSE CUT IN SALARY OF MANAGER OF CEMETERIES

Cemetery Commission Seeks to Enlist Aid of Oakland
Lot Owners

The city cemetery commission, which has recently been one of Mayor Wood's targets, has issued over 2,000 letters in an effort to block the mayor in his fight to have the salary of the general manager of cemeteries, J. N. Porter, reduced, and to cut down the size of the force employed by the cemetery department.

The members of the commission, Sam P. Greenleaf, Forrest Greene, Frank Hill, R. A. McMurray and P. J. Bloomfield, Monday mailed a letter to every one of 2,000 lot holders at Oakland and to every member of the general council of Atlanta, as well as to the members of the Ladies' Memorial association, and others who might be interested in the city cemetery.

Mayor Woodard declares that General Manager Porter works only a few hours each day to earn the salary of $150 per month paid him by the city, and declares this should certainly be reduced.

The members of the commission declare that they have no "political axe" to grind, but assert that the mayor's proposal is the result of a personal grudge against the commission because it discharged an incompetent man whom he favored.

MISS MARY C. DANIEL
WEDS ROBERT E. LEE

Couple Take Sudden Notion
to Marry and Surprise
Relatives

Robert E. Lee, a young Atlantaan engaged by the Nunnally company, and Miss Mary Clyde Daniel, a pretty graduate of the Girls' High school, have been secreted for a good while, and it has been their intention to be married and their parents made no objection. But they had not planned to be married until Cupid took a notion Sunday afternoon that the young couple might as well start the new year right, and when Cupid spoke the man and the maid obeyed, as they always have and always will.

Accordingly, Mr. Lee went to Miss Daniel's home in an automobile, took her to the home of Rev. W. H. Bell, pastor of North Atlanta Baptist church, and they were duly and promptly and happily united in the bonds of matrimony.

And when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Daniel, returned to the city from an afternoon's auto trip, they found Mr. and Mrs. Lee at home at the bride's home, 42 Ponderosa avenue, awaiting the parental blessing, which was bestowed upon them.

MAYOR WOULD BAR WOMEN FROM DRINKING INCLUBS

Recommends Drinks be Served Only When Accompanied by Male Relatives

Probably the most remarkable feature of Mayor James G. Woodard's annual message read by him to the general council Monday night is his recommendation that women be barred from drinking in clubs.

The mayor frankly expresses the opinion that the saloons at which they were operated in Atlanta before the prohibition law were easier to control and regulate than the locker clubs and beer saloons of today, but as he says, the prohibition law is on the statute books and it must be given due consideration.

The mayor is convinced the locker clubs are doing a great deal of harm by serving drinks to women. He recommends that council pass an ordinance prohibiting each and every club in the city from serving a drink to a woman unless she be accompanied by some close male relative.

Regarding the beer saloons, the mayor recommends that the number be reduced to 100 (there are about 180 now) and that the license tax be increased so as to realize the same revenue for the city.

Regarding pool rooms, the mayor recommends that in every case they be separated from beer saloons, and that the council prohibit basement rathskellers.

The mayor's first recommendation by calling attention to the fact that he is the first mayor to succeed himself in nearly fifty years. The old city charter provided for a mayor to be elected for one year.

The charter was amended so as to permit the mayor to succeed himself. Mayor Woodard is the first mayor to be elected to a second consecutive term under this amendment.

The mayor says he found the city treasury burdened by $700,000 worth of debts under the moral obligation plan which he became mayor in 1912 and of this has been paid off with the exception of $15,000. He says he saved the city $25,000 on the fire alarm contract and $70,000 on the crematory contract.

The record he says, may seem astounding, but it is a fact, and he feels that he may be pardoned for pointing to it with pride. He congratulates the council members who participated in the record of the moral obligation plan and criticizes those who opposed him.

He says the council in 1911 was largely opposed to him, the council of 1914 was opposed to him to a considerable extent, but he believes the council of 1915 will, in the main, support him and his policies.

Under the head of purchasing supplies, the mayor says the purchasing agent has more than justified the wisdom of creating his position and has saved the city for the past year in the purchase of supplies, which saving he estimates at $75,000 for 1914.

The mayor here briefly recommends the immediate construction of a warehouse for storing city supplies, declaring it will save not less than $150,000 in its first year.

BOND ISSUES.
Under the head of bond sinking funds, the mayor says the sinking fund commission has its affairs in the shape of a house on fire.

Touching bond issues, the mayor outlines his position at length. Briefly stated, it is that he wants the people, before they vote on a bond issue, to be thoroughly informed as to what a bond issue will cost. For instance, he shows that an issue of $4,000,000 will cost $500,000 per year in sinking fund and interest, and he estimates that the cost of maintaining the new schools, fire stations, etc., will probably be built with bond money, would cost another $500,000 to maintain. This additional $500,000 per year, he declares, should be provided only by an increase in the tax rate or the tax assessment.

He therefore believes it would be better, if the city treasury is to be called on for this additional revenue, for the city simply to spend the amount annually without incurring bonds at all.

Under the head of salaries the mayor recommends a policy of retrenchment wherever this can be done without injustice to any city employee. He ventures the opinion that the present salaries in the construction department, taking them as a whole, range too high. In another portion of the message he takes occasion to praise this department, however, for the great volume of work which it supervised during 1914, amounting in round numbers to $675,000 worth of sewer, street, paving, sidewalk and curbing, gutting, resurfacing, etc.

Under the head of charter, the mayor declares the present charter is a worn-out piece of patchwork and that the people want a new one and should have it. He recommends the creation of two committees of city members, each one to consist of a representative form of city government, such as we have now, and the other committee to consist of advocates of the straight commission form of city government, such as has been proposed for Atlanta. Let these two committees draw two charters of the two forms indicated, and let the people take their choice between the two.

Under the head of exposition, Mayor Woodard points out that the annual Southeastern fair at Lakewood park is practically assured, and he strongly urges immediate action looking to an early commencement of work.

The city's pension system is discussed at length. The mayor says he would not like to admit he is opposed to pensioning old employees, but at the same time he favors a time when the city's pensions under the present system will become a heavy burden on the treasury.

He says there is a question in his mind whether any employee should be pensioned who is not in the city's service, and disabled in the city's service. As he points out, the certainty of a pension in old age is somewhat calculated to lessen a man's endeavors in early years.

The ordinance requiring boards to follow the nominations of their respective department heads in electing subordinates in these departments was easier to control and regulate than the locker clubs and beer saloons of today, but as he says, the prohibition law is on the statute books and it must be given due consideration.

He says the council in 1911 was largely opposed to him, the council of 1914 was opposed to him to a considerable extent, but he believes the council of 1915 will, in the main, support him and his policies.

Under the head of purchasing supplies, the mayor says the purchasing agent has more than justified the wisdom of creating his position and has saved the city for the past year in the purchase of supplies, which saving he estimates at $75,000 for 1914.

The mayor here briefly recommends the immediate construction of a warehouse for storing city supplies, declaring it will save not less than $150,000 in its first year.

BOND ISSUES.
Under the head of bond sinking funds, the mayor says the sinking fund commission has its affairs in the shape of a house on fire.

Touching bond issues, the mayor outlines his position at length. Briefly stated, it is that he wants the people, before they vote on a bond issue, to be thoroughly informed as to what a bond issue will cost. For instance, he shows that an issue of $4,000,000 will cost $500,000 per year in sinking fund and interest, and he estimates that the cost of maintaining the new schools, fire stations, etc., will probably be built with bond money, would cost another $500,000 to maintain. This additional $500,000 per year, he declares, should be provided only by an increase in the tax rate or the tax assessment.

He therefore believes it would be better, if the city treasury is to be called on for this additional revenue, for the city simply to spend the amount annually without incurring bonds at all.

Under the head of salaries the mayor recommends a policy of retrenchment wherever this can be done without injustice to any city employee. He ventures the opinion that the present salaries in the construction department, taking them as a whole, range too high. In another portion of the message he takes occasion to praise this department, however, for the great volume of work which it supervised during 1914, amounting in round numbers to $675,000 worth of sewer, street, paving, sidewalk and curbing, gutting, resurfacing, etc.

Under the head of charter, the mayor declares the present charter is a worn-out piece of patchwork and that the people want a new one and should have it. He recommends the creation of two committees of city members, each one to consist of a representative form of city government, such as we have now, and the other committee to consist of advocates of the straight commission form of city government, such as has been proposed for Atlanta. Let these two committees draw two charters of the two forms indicated, and let the people take their choice between the two.

Under the head of exposition, Mayor Woodard points out that the annual Southeastern fair at Lakewood park is practically assured, and he strongly urges immediate action looking to an early commencement of work.

The city's pension system is discussed at length. The mayor says he would not like to admit he is opposed to pensioning old employees, but at the same time he favors a time when the city's pensions under the present system will become a heavy burden on the treasury.

He says there is a question in his mind whether any employee should be pensioned who is not in the city's service, and disabled in the city's service. As he points out, the certainty of a pension in old age is somewhat calculated to lessen a man's endeavors in early years.

The ordinance requiring boards to follow the nominations of their respective department heads in electing subordinates in these departments was easier to control and regulate than the locker clubs and beer saloons of today, but as he says, the prohibition law is on the statute books and it must be given due consideration.

The mayor is convinced the locker clubs are doing a great deal of harm by serving drinks to women. He recommends that council pass an ordinance prohibiting each and every club in the city from serving a drink to a woman unless she be accompanied by some close male relative.

Regarding the beer saloons, the mayor recommends that the number be reduced to 100 (there are about 180 now) and that the license tax be increased so as to realize the same revenue for the city.

Regarding pool rooms, the mayor recommends that in every case they be separated from beer saloons, and that the council prohibit basement rathskellers.

The mayor's first recommendation by calling attention to the fact that he is the first mayor to succeed himself in nearly fifty years. The old city charter provided for a mayor to be elected for one year.

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

DRAWS CROWDS TO HIGH'S
Prices in All Departments of Big Whitehall Store Slashed to Minimum

Crowds swarmed to J. M. High company's sale on Whitehall street throughout Monday and Tuesday, attracted by the advertisements for the big January clearance sale in which prices in all departments have been slashed to a minimum.

And none were disappointed. Groceries, coats, suits, millinery, shoes, ready-to-wear, fur, men's, women's, and children's clothing, all were displayed at astonishingly low prices, and the hundreds of buyers were delighted with the quality of the goods. The stock is all new, fresh and stylish, remains unmarked from forgotten shelves, but newly arrived products which are the best the market offers.

The reason for the remarkable values has to do with the high cost of prices, is due to the policy the store has taken of adopting prices to human requirements and present conditions. W. H. Brittain, manager of the store, frankly believes to be impossible incident to the European war and deplorable conditions in this country is not only able to furnish the consumer with low-priced goods but that the High store is proving it daily with goods which will continue through January.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.
Disorderly conduct in the police department, the mayor declares it is suffering from outside interference. He says it has been a long time since there has been a "one line of crime," and this crime, he intimates, is the police department. He should get out of the police department, he should be eliminated, but should be dealt with in a "common sense way." He ventures to say that chief Beavers handles his men in a way which does not compare with the degree of harmony which should prevail in the department, and closes the portion of the message declaring that there is too much party spirit going on in Atlanta, for which some body should be held responsible. "If Atlanta is not getting the results from its police department, it should get them some action should be taken which will give us better protection," he says.

In his mention of the fire department the mayor reviews the investigation of charges against Fire Chief W. R. Cummings in connection with the purchase of fire hose, and declares that his previously expressed opinion that "matters are not yet changed." He makes it very plain that he will fight the reelection of Chief Cummings when his term expires this year. He recommends that the entire department be reorganized as speedily as possible.

Reviewing the work of the water works department, he extends his system of mains and installing new machinery, and declares that the management of Dr. W. B. Summer, all in the highest terms, despite the recent adverse criticism of the school department in connection with a proposed school bond issue, urges an appropriation of $25,000 to buy a lot of new books and equipment for the school, and he and council will get along harmoniously together throughout the year.

HIGHWAYMAN HITS MAN AND THEN RUNS AWAY

G. R. McCowan Badly Hurt by Negro, but Escaped
Robbery

G. R. McCowan, of 324 Highland avenue, exhibits a deep gash several inches across the back of his head today, the result of an attack by a negro highwayman who attacked him just at twilight Monday night near the corner of Williams and Harris streets.

Mr. McCowan was on his way to L. W. Rogers' store at the corner to buy some food. He had 30 cents in his pocket. It was dark and as he neared the store he heard a noise behind him. Before he could turn he was struck with a terrific force on the back of the head.

It felt like a baseball bat, he said, in describing his sensations. He was knocked dizzy for the moment, but recovered in time to see a tall, slim, yellow negro fleeing up the street, evidently frightened by an approaching policeman. Mr. McCowan retained his wits and caught the next car for the grade hospital where five stitches were made in his wound.

"I don't report it to the police," he said, "but what's the use? But if some people should be protected in some manner. It's past the point of safety when a man can't walk along the street at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon without getting his head smashed in."

You Need Not Suffer With Backache and Rheumatism

For centuries GOLD MEDAL Haemorrhoid Oil has been a standard household remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and stomach trouble, and all diseases connected with the urinary organs. The kidneys and bladder are the most important organs of the body. They are filters, the purifiers of your blood. If the kidneys which enter your system through the blood and stomach are not properly thrown out by the kidneys and detector, you are doomed.

Weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, tenderness, backache, stomach trouble, headache, pain in joints, and lower abdominal, gall-stones, gravel, difficulty when urinating, and blood in the urine, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, all warn you to look after your kidneys and bladder. GOLD MEDAL Haemorrhoid Oil capsules are what you need.

They are not a "patent medicine" nor a "new discovery." For 200 years they have been a standard household remedy. They are the pure, original imported Haemorrhoid Oil your great-grandmother used, and are perfectly harmless. The healing, soothing oil soaks into the cells and lining of the kidneys and through the bladder, driving out the poisonous germs. New life, fresh strength and health will come as you continue this treatment. When completely restored to your usual vigor, continue taking a capsule or two each day. They will keep you in condition and prevent a return of the disease.

HISTORY A REPEATER AS SHOWN AT STEWART'S

Big Crowds Turn Out to the Big Shoe Sale This Morning

When the doors of the Fred S. Stewart company, 25 Whitehall, were thrown open at 9 o'clock this morning in response to the five column advertisement in Monday's Journal, a big crowd was in waiting.

The first throng that streamed in practically filled every nook and corner of the big store and it was found necessary to close the doors in order to wait upon those who had entered.

This big shoe sale demonstrates the fact that history repeats itself for all time, everybody in Atlanta will recall the marvelous sale pulled off by the Fred S. Stewart company last summer. All customers will be accorded every possible attention but everyone readily understands that when such astonishing values are offered in high-class footwear it will be all impossible to wait upon all who enter.

This sale will continue indefinitely and all will be given a chance to secure some of the bargains offered in men's, women's and children's shoes at Stewart's big semi-annual sale.—(Adv.)

Down the Items that Interest You. There is a Saving in Every Price---And Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. Quality.

In the lists below we make no effort to describe the qualities of the different articles. We rest that with the rather general understanding of what Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. merchandise is at its regular price. So that when we say we shall sell $2.50 a dozen napkins at $1.90, women may expect at $1.90 a quality that measures up to the best they have known at $2.50.

In many instances the savings may not be overly impressive; the difference between regular and sale prices may be slight. It is a fact, however, that in many instances it has required the shrewdest buying to keep the new prices even as low as former prices.

Read this advertisement carefully. Tucked away somewhere is some item that every housekeeper, every woman soon to get into her spring sewing, will need.

And it means simple and certain economy to buy whatever that item may be—right now.

Manager Herzog of Cincinnati Club Holds Conference With Wingo Here

DIANA DILLPICKLES IN

(HER TREE DOCTOR BEAU)

A 4-REEL "SCREECHER" FILM

McGraw Puts Over Trade for Hans Lobert

Philly Third Baseman Will Join Giants in Exchange for Players, Stock, Demaree and Adams, and a Cash Consideration

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The New York Nationals Monday obtained the services of Hans Lobert, third baseman of the Philadelphia Nationals, as the result of a trade consummated in Philadelphia. In exchange for Lobert the Philadelphia club will receive a cash consideration and the following players: Al Demaree, pitcher; Milton Stock, third baseman; and Jack Adams, a young catcher bought last fall from New Orleans. This announcement was made last night by Manager McGraw, of the Giants.

The deal was virtually completed here Sunday at a conference between McGraw and William F. Baker, president of the Philadelphia club, who sent telegrams yesterday to Manager McGraw, asking him to complete the deal. It was understood that the third baseman would sign a five-year contract.

Lobert has been called one of the best third basemen in the game. He played for the Philadelphia club in 1910 from Cincinnati. McGraw last night expressed the opinion that Lobert would put his team back in the running for the pennant.

"That fellow's some hustler." You often hear that phrase applied to an energetic man.

Why is he such a hustler? Because he has no fatigue germs, putting the brakes on his system.

Jacobs' Liver Salt is the foe of fatigue germs—eliminate them and all poisons from the system. Mister, if you MUST work in an office and WILL live in a flat and don't EVER chop any wood, you have got—HAVE GOT, I say—to help nature eliminate the accumulation of poisons that this wrong living produces. Jacobs' Liver Salt is the one persuasive eliminant.

Herzog Seeks To Yank Magee Back Into Fold

Manager of Cincinnati Meets Ivey Wingo Here for Conference, Would Dissuade Him From Joining Federals. Both Decline to Make Announcement

Local friends and admirers of Ivey Wingo, bristled at the news of the St. Louis Cardinals and prominent citizen of America, need not be surprised if they find Ivey Wingo out on the field as a spring training camp next spring. For his first season's practice, the season, he is in a suit of Cincinnati Reds. It surely will be no surprise if Manager Buck Herzog of the Cardinals can carry through plans which he has in mind, and on which he is working very diligently.

Herzog and Wingo have been in conference here in the city since last night. They had reached the city at 10:30 p.m. yesterday, and were joined shortly after by Ivey Wingo, who had come down from St. Louis by appointment. No sooner had the two gotten together and shaken hands than Herzog got down to business.

Herzog has a twofold purpose. First, he wants to know how Wingo feels about his situation. Second, he wants to know how Wingo feels about the Cardinals. Herzog is interested along with the Cardinals in the Federal League. American and National leagues in following the efforts of the Cardinals in trying to secure stars from organized ranks into outlaw camp.

Herzog was anxious to announce that he was through with the Cardinals, and that he expected to play with some Federal League club next season. In fact, it was announced that he had already signed a Federal League contract. It appears certain that his split with the Cardinals is such that he will not be patched up which would require that he play with the Cardinals next year. But Herzog and others here have that Wingo can be kept in the fold, if a suitable trade can be arranged. Wingo is willing to pay him a good salary to play with the Cardinals.

It is possible that a definite agreement was reached between the two at their conference, but neither would admit or deny such an agreement. Of course any deal would have to be subject to a later deal which would involve Wingo's future. It is possible, therefore, that Herzog and the Cardinals agreed on a satisfactory arrangement between themselves, provided the two clubs can get together on a trade. The details of the deal would have to be worked out later, and will come out in the future.

The deal is made, it is hardly likely that the results of the local conference will be made public.

THE GLASS HOUSE BRIGADE.
Charging the average ball player of the present epoch with being a most sordid commercial soul is all very well. In most cases the charge is fairly well put.

Not among those free enough of the aforesaid commercial taint, is the idea of getting all they can while the getting is ripe—among those free enough to put the first brick there are possibly nineteen out of 100,000 souls. The average ball player may be a sordid commercial. Say that he is. But in this respect what, or how much has the average ball player upon our average politician, business man, lawyer, or the rest of it? One-tenth of one per cent? We doubt it very much.

A REBUTTAL FROM BROOKLYN.
Dear Sir—Please be kind enough to tell me why George Burns is considered a better outfielder than Zach Wheat. Wheat batted Burns by 16 points; Wheat batted in 85 runs and Burns 57; Wheat has a better fielding average by 13 points, and covered more ground by accepting more chances in the field than any other outfielder in the league. Wheat outbats Burns; drives in more runs than Burns; outfields Burns—and yet Burns is rated as the better player. Why?
—Chas. Cornell, Brooklyn.

ALSO WHY IS THIS?
By introducing Brooklyn into the argument we come upon another queer shift of the game.

Daubert and Dalton fought out the battle for the batting leadership of the N. L. last season. Both were well into 300. Yes, Daubert batted in only 14 runs and Dalton only 41—a matter of 85 points. Sam Crawford alone batted in 112 runs, and in the National League Magee drove 101 precious tallies over the plate. Daubert and Dalton outbatted Magee and Crawford, but the latter two drove in 201 runs against 85—depleting thereby a fearful waste of Brooklyn-made bats.

ANOTHER JOLT.
Well, Daubert, you say, wasn't a timely hitter. How then about Johnny Evers, supposed to be one of the timeliest? Johnny batted 23 runs over all year, while Cuthbert, of Brooklyn, barely mentioned among those worth while amid the succulent statistics, drove in 74. Three cheers, once more, for the Granddaddy.

CONSIDER THEM ADDED.
Dear Sir—The writer has been from direct hearsay evidence, which should be admissible in the Supreme Court of the Dope. Near the end of the recent Yale-Harvard game, Frank Hinkley turned to Easton, a Yale sub, and said: "This is the best Harvard team I ever saw, and Tuck Hardwick is the best man on it."

Which is appropos of this to your All-Around All-Americans, Thorpe, Brinkley and Co. not add Hardwick and Tuckson Hard? Both are big and great hitters, and great lineups. And both in so many useful ways that neither should be rated below even the celebrated tri-mentioned.

If the Feds intend to establish a football base, no show of a richer field than Columbia University, N. Y. City; an assortment of 7,000 to pick from adjacent a Stadium capable of seating 45,000 at a push with a city of five million to shoot at.

Billiard Match Players Hurt in Begins Tonight Game Saturday

The first kick of 200 balls in the special pocket billiard match between William Baker, of St. Louis, and Ed Prater, champion of Georgia, will be held at the Crystal Billiard parlor tonight. This pair will play a 600-ball match, dividing it into three sessions, on consecutive nights beginning tonight. In addition to the match between the two players, Baker will give a demonstration at making fancy shots. He has a reputation as a wizard with the cue and the exhibition should prove highly interesting.

Arrangements have been made for accommodating the public at this match. A table has been placed in a large room adjoining the Crystal, and seats provided to take care of the crowd. Manager Ed Prater has promised that if this event proves popular, he will bring down Alfred Lawrence, the Cuban expert for a similar exhibition in the near future.

The game of basketball last Saturday night with the Columbus V. M. C. A. team has manifested many more serious than the mere loss of the contest. From present appearances two regulars in the line-up Saturday night, when the team plays the Knoxville Tigers, as a result of injuries received at Columbus. Captain Williamson Smith received a bad cut over the eye in that game, and was forced to retire shortly after it began. Later during the fray, Tillon Forbes received an injury to his side, which may prove rather serious. An X-ray of the injury is being taken to determine the exact nature of the injury. The loss of the two regular forwards will of course cripple the team for the game with the Knoxville boys, but Coach Deak is fortunate in having some good substitutes to replace these regulars.

Virginia League Sets Price on Colt Franchise

Sum of $10,000 Asked for Release of Territorial Rights of League on City of Richmond-International League Wants Berth in the City

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 4.—The transfer of the Baltimore franchise in the International League to Richmond, now depends upon the acceptance or rejection by Richmond business interests of the Virginia league's offer, made at a meeting here yesterday to grant territorial rights to the International League for $10,000, the Virginia league retaining the right to play games in this city when the Internationals are on the road, and the territory to revert to the Virginia league in case the International franchise should be transferred elsewhere.

The proviso is added that the transaction will be void unless sanctioned by the International league, the national commission and the National Association of Professional Baseball Players. This offer was made after the Virginia league directors, if they of it is accepted, say they will hardly place a team here, but desire to be Richmond in the league so that the C. O. rating may be preserved.

Domestic action will be taken at a meeting here on Wednesday evening.

ANOTHER JOLT.
Well, Daubert, you say, wasn't a timely hitter. How then about Johnny Evers, supposed to be one of the timeliest? Johnny batted 23 runs over all year, while Cuthbert, of Brooklyn, barely mentioned among those worth while amid the succulent statistics, drove in 74. Three cheers, once more, for the Granddaddy.

CONSIDER THEM ADDED.
Dear Sir—The writer has been from direct hearsay evidence, which should be admissible in the Supreme Court of the Dope. Near the end of the recent Yale-Harvard game, Frank Hinkley turned to Easton, a Yale sub, and said: "This is the best Harvard team I ever saw, and Tuck Hardwick is the best man on it."

Which is appropos of this to your All-Around All-Americans, Thorpe, Brinkley and Co. not add Hardwick and Tuckson Hard? Both are big and great hitters, and great lineups. And both in so many useful ways that neither should be rated below even the celebrated tri-mentioned.

If the Feds intend to establish a football base, no show of a richer field than Columbia University, N. Y. City; an assortment of 7,000 to pick from adjacent a Stadium capable of seating 45,000 at a push with a city of five million to shoot at.

Walsh Reaches City for Bout

Red Walsh, manager for Kid Herman, who will box Knockout Eggers at the Bijou theater Tuesday night next week, arrived in Atlanta Monday and is busy helping promoter Mike Slay in getting things in readiness for the match. Herman promised to stay over to watch the Burns-Conway match in the Crescent city last night. He is expected here Wednesday. Eggers is also due to arrive on that date.

Since his arrival, Walsh has thrown some further light on Burns' refusal to fulfill his agreement and meet Herman here at 112 pounds. Walsh declares that if he makes the regulation weight for Herman he is going to have a large payday time handling the match, and with a tough rugged boy like Eggers opposing him, he would not like to be cornered.

Herman on the other hand prefers to box here. Both he and Walsh are very well pleased with the treatment they received here, and that Burns will fight Herman here, or he won't meet him at all. Furthermore, Burns knows that if he makes the regulation weight for Herman he is going to have a large payday time handling the match, and with a tough rugged boy like Eggers opposing him, he would not like to be cornered.

Cubs and Athletics Arrange Spring Series

Closed today for a series of games between the Chicago Nationals and the Philadelphia club was the Philadelphia league to be played in Florida during the winter training season. The league club will train at Tampa and the Philadelphia players will condition themselves at Jacksonville. The games will be played in each city.

HARRY LAUDER

World-famous Scotch Comedian, says:

"Tuxedo, for mildness, purity and fragrance, THE tobacco for me. With my pipe filled with good old TUXEDO, all my troubles go up in smoke. In all my world-wide travels I've yet to find its equal as a slow-burning, cool-tasting, sweet-flavored tobacco. TUXEDO satisfies me completely."

Harry Lauder

Tuxedo Keeps the World in Good Humor

Here is the man whose life work is to make millions of people happy. In pursuing his call, he travels the wide world over. He is a great lover of his pipe, and in all sorts of corners of the earth he has tried all sorts of tobaccos.

What is his unqualified statement in regard to Tuxedo? Read it again: "I've got to find its equal." This is the frank and candid opinion of thousands and thousands of experienced, judicious smokers. Tuxedo is absolutely the best all-around tobacco that modern tobacco science can make.

The Perfect Tobacco For Pipe and Cigarette

Uncorking a tin of Tuxedo is like lifting the lid on concentrated sunshine. And then, when you fire up! Well! The first puff's a revelation, the second's a revolution, the third just gets you happy-like! Then you're off—just as sure as you'll see the green grass and hear the birds sing next Spring.

The exclusive "Tuxedo Process" brings out the unsurpassed mildness, delicate fragrance and mellow flavor of the Burley leaf in a way that has never been successfully imitated. At the same time it refines the tobacco until every trace of harshness and "bite" disappears.
